

Urban Space Design Competition

Terms & Conditions

- All submissions must be original and owned by the applicant(s).
- Applicants will retain the intellectual property rights of their proposals, and the winning participant will grant QM and its' affiliates the exclusive right to reproduce, exhibit and promote worldwide the proposal in perpetuity, for commercial and non-commercial purposes, in any medium whether printed or digital.
- Plagiarized or previously submitted works will be disqualified.
- The applicant shall be responsible to obtain copyright licenses or releases of content that belongs to third-parties.
- The applicants will hold QM harmless of any and all claims and damages related to the third-party rights infringement related to the open call submission.
- Selected applicants must commit to participating in scheduled design reviews, site visits, and production meetings (online or in-person).
- Be present in Doha for the production stage, installation period, and official opening of the Biennale.
- The winning designer(s) will collaborate with designated production partners for fabrication and installation. The design must be feasible, safe, and suited to Qatar's outdoor climate conditions.
- All selected applicants must comply with the timelines and deliverables outlined by Design Doha. Failure to meet deadlines may result in disqualification or termination of the agreement.
- Design Doha reserves the right to suggest reasonable modifications to align the proposal with curatorial vision, site requirements, or logistical feasibility.
- Selected designers will be required to sign a formal agreement outlining responsibilities, timelines, deliverables, production collaboration, and rights granted for the installation.
- By submitting, applicants agree that submitted materials (including images, texts, and visuals) may be used by Design Doha and QM for promotional, editorial, and archival purposes with full credit to the authors.
- The applicant of the winning proposal will grant QM and its' affiliates the exclusive right to reproduce, exhibit and promote worldwide the proposal in perpetuity, for commercial and non-commercial purposes, in any medium whether printed or digital, the applicant will retain any and all moral rights. QM shall grant proper attribution and credits to the applicant whenever the work is used, and this will be subject to a separate agreement between QM and the winning participant, covering all intellectual property related terms and other obligations, with no additional fees paid by QM other than the prize fees.